BACKUS TO RETURN TO FLOOR SQUAD

Faculty Waives Enforcement Of Eligibility Until End Of Semester

(Special To The News) NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 14. -After a one day strike by the students of Westminster College, classes were resumed today and the normal quietude of the campus has been resumed. The students won their demands, Paul Backus, basketball star has been reinstated and the probationary regulations are lifted until the second semester.

The strike was caned when Backus was not permitted to play basketball against Carnegie Tech in Pittsburgh Thursday night because of one honor point to remove him from the probation list and this the students thought was enforcing rules too fine. Friday morning they refused to attend classes, picketed the administration building, carried his gloomy parade to the electric banners about the streets and held a mass meeting in the snow storm.

THOUSANDS ARE IN WOODS TODAY

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Dec. 14.-Six men shot and killed "in action" and three others, the victims of attendant highway mishaps, brought the toll of hunting fatalities to nine today as thousands of hunters swarmed thru 14 Pennsylvania counties for the third and last day of the "short season" on antlerless deer.

Five hunters were killed Thursday, the first day, as the crossfire of WPA workers and fearful inhabitants of the invaded counties.

25, Baltimore, Md., died last night in Renovo hospital. Both legs were shattered above the knee by a shot from the rifle of L. W. Ferguson, York, a member of his own hunting party. Fellow hunters said Cates deer were running in a drive.

An automobile accident near Harrisburg Thursday claimed the life of one hunter, while two others were killed instantly in Erie county yesterday. At least four others were wounded by stray bullets and accidentally discharged shots in the woods the first two days.

While no official count of the deer kill was available, deputy game wardens in the 14 counties reported thousands of doe slain. The season closes at sundown today.

THE NAVAL CONFERENCE

Not until the end of 1942, under present plans, will the United Etates navy have been built up to the strength allotted to it at the end of 1936 by the London naval treaty of 1930. The fact we are six full years behind in the building program compels the present London naval conference to take, at face value, President Roosevelt's express desire for a

Ambassador Davis told the conferees at the opening of the conference that the United States "will not take the initiative in naval competition" and that "we want limitation and reduction." The British are for limitation, too, but the reduction Premier Stanley Baldwin seeks is not in tonnages, with British demanding twenty new cruisers, but "in the sizes of all larger types of ships and of the guns they carry."

The urbane Japanese also, in the opinion voiced by Admiral Nagane, are for limitation and reduction on the basis of "a common limit of naval armaments to be fixed as low as possible." That means parity.

Thus, in the first week of a conference that is expected to last four or five months, are set forth the divergencies in view of the three an sighs feebly and smiles farewell biggest naval powers, each of which professes to be friendly to the two to her children. . . . There is a strong undercurrent of resentment in Japan at the taxes levied to support the whole war establishment, and an enlarged navy building program might cause trouble. But the Japanese can be counted on to stand resolute against any naval reductions so long as the 5-5-3 naval ratios persist.

Sacred Hearts And St. Nicholas Win Floor Games

Epworth M. E. Stages Upset stars for the Wallacemen. Bulisco, Of First Baptists 26 To 20

It was one grand night of upsets at the "Y" last night. No less than three of the church AA basketball leaders took it on the chin in most unexpected fashion. First it was St. Nicholas with a 28 to 27 victory over St. Michaels, the the Sacred Hearts followed with a defeat of the Central Christians 15

To make it unanimous for the night the Epworth M. E. team socked the First Baptists one for 26 to 20 and the fans went home satisfied at three fast and exciting floor games.

Wabash Bears And Ryantown Will Clash Sunday At Centennial Field

What will probably be the final Montgomery football game of the 1935 season in New Castle will be played Sunday 2:45 o'clock, with the Wabash Bears | Weir 86 84 145

The Independent football championship of New Castle is at stake in this game which will no doubt be played on a field covered with snow and mud. The two teams battled last Sunday on a muddy field to a 0-0 deadlock.

The winning team tomorrow will be given a silver trophy cup to signify their championship. The lineup of both teams is dotted with former New Castle High star performers. The game will no doubt be hard fought from start to finish. The lineups: Hanna 91 117 145
